This fun and full day of agility workshops with Beth Mathews-Bradshaw, presented by Blue Ridge Dog Training Club, focuses on recognizing and meeting handling challenges for competitors of two skill levels.

In the morning, Advanced/Masters teams — must be running in AKC Open or above or have permission of instructor — will work on handling and training challenges including discriminations and backsides, as participants evaluate handling options and work to make the best choices for handler and dog.

In the afternoon session, novice/young dogs — all dogs must be at least eight (8) months of age or have advance permission of instructor — will be presented with exercises geared toward the skill level of the teams attending. Handlers will evaluate handling options and learn to make the best choices for the dog.

About the Instructor

Beth Mathews-Bradshaw

Beth Mathews-Bradshaw has been training and showing dogs in agility for over 15 years. She has run everything from small 8" jumping terriers to 24" jumping Dobermans, and all the sizes in between. She currently teaches at several areas in Northern Virginia including A Click Above and provides private instruction at sites including BRDTC.

Beth has made finals at nationals in multiple venues, the most recent was making the podium with her Manchester terrier Pixel at the US Open in Fall 2017 in Master Series – one of only two dog and handler teams in 16" to run clean on both the Standard and Jumpers courses — and regularly is invited to the AKC Invitational with her Manchester terriers. Her dog Pixel was the second highest scoring terrier at the Invitational in 2017.

Beth uses positive training methods and believes agility should be a rewarding experience for dogs and handlers alike.
